

We'd love to hear from you.

As we reach the end of our Outdoor Play and Learning journey, we want to know what you think about playtimes at Handsworth now.

We've spent the past months transforming how children play at break and lunchtimes – with more variety, more challenge, and a lot more fun. Before our final assessment, the children and staff are all sharing their views, and your voice as parents and carers matters just as much.

The survey takes only a few minutes. It asks what you think of playtimes now, what you'd love to see in the playground, and a little about how your own family plays outdoors. There are no right answers – just your honest thoughts – and everything you tell us helps us keep improving play for every child.

PLEASE COMPLETE BY Monday 8th July

Could you lend a hand?

There's also a question at the end about whether you'd be willing to help with our ongoing OPAL work. It's not a commitment – just a chance to flag your interest, and we'd be delighted to hear from anyone who'd like to get involved.
